Mr. Uma Shankar

Social Volunteer

Batch 2004–2006

After a decade of success in corporate supply chain leadership, Mr. Uma Shankar made a bold and purpose-driven pivot—from boardrooms to some of the most underserved corners of India. Leaving behind the comfort of a thriving career, he chose to serve as a life skills coach in the heart of India's Naxal-affected tribal regions.

Today, Mr. Uma Shankar works shoulder-to-shoulder with marginalized communities, empowering them through education, health awareness, and personal transformation. His work isn't just about coaching—it's about restoring dignity, building self-belief, and lighting a path forward for those often left behind.

FIIB is proud to honor Mr. Uma Shankar for his extraordinary commitment to social upliftment. His journey is a powerful reminder that success is not just about what you achieve, but how you use it to uplift others. We salute your courage, service, and profound impact. Your story moves and motivates us all.
